

You will never feel like it

Motivation is not coming. The follow-up call and the sales conversation get done when you make yourself do them, not when you feel ready.

REMEMBER

- ◆ Waiting to feel like it is the most common way sales do not happen.
- ◆ Starting takes the most effort. After the first minute it gets easier.
- ◆ Be the good parent to yourself: kind, clear, and not open to negotiation.

YOUR TURN

The sales actions I keep putting off:

What I tell myself when I put them off:

What those delays have cost me in the last 90 days:

The time each day I will do my sales actions, whatever I feel:

The smallest first step that gets me started (open the list, dial the number):

THIS WEEK

Pick the one follow-up you have been avoiding. Do it tomorrow before anything else, without waiting to feel ready.

Inspired by Mel Robbins, "How to Stop Screwing Yourself Over" (TEDx).