

Borrow before you buy

You do not have to own everything you need. Someone already has it, and may be glad to share it when the arrangement serves them too.

REMEMBER

- ◆ Ask "who already has this?" before you ask "how do I pay for this?"
- ◆ The best arrangements serve both sides. Know what the other party is trying to grow.
- ◆ Start small. Prove it works, then ask for more.

YOUR TURN

What I think I need to buy or build to grow (space, equipment, audience, tools, team):

Who already has each of those?

What would they gain from sharing it with me?

A small trial I could propose to one of them:

THIS WEEK

Pick the one thing you were about to spend money on. Find one person or organization who already has it and start the conversation.