

Lead with what they think they need. Deliver what they need.

The practical how-to gets people in the door. The shift in how they think is what changes their results. A complete offer holds both.

REMEMBER

- ◆ Meet people where they are. Honor the need they can name.
- ◆ Build the deeper work into the offer from the start.
- ◆ This is not a bait and switch. You deliver what you promised, and more.

YOUR TURN

What my customers say they want, in their words:

What actually creates their results, in mine:

Where the deeper work is built into my offer, and how often:

One element I will add that addresses how my clients think, not only what they do:

THIS WEEK

Add one element to your current offer that addresses how your clients think, not only what they do.
